Joy—Just Older Youth
The Beautiful Savior 50+ group met on Wednesday, September 18th. Everyone enjoyed a delicious lunch followed by 10 great games of Bingo. Another gathering, including lunch, is planned for October 23rd. More information will be announced in church and included in the bulletin. Mark your calendars and join us for fun and fellowship.

Beautiful Savior's Prayer Chain
As the church, we are called to lift up prayers for those around us, for each other and for our own needs. Jesus when teaching about prayer makes one thing clear; Be persistent! (Luke 11:5-8; 18:1-8). Your prayer is an exercise in persistence. Don’t give up.

Together we can lift up our prayer needs and aid another in our life of prayer. To aid in this effort, we have started up an email based prayer chain. All emails will be kept confidential and only the office will have access to who is on the prayer chain. To join please click or scan the link.

President’s Post

Happy fall everyone!

Congratulations to Ron Lentz for winning our annual cribbage tournament. He won several months ago, but I forgot to post the result (jealous, I guess). The next cribbage tournament isn’t scheduled yet, but you all should be honing your skills. It’s always a lot of fun and is a great way to meet other members of the church.

Ron Lentz also took top prizes for Best Chili and Best Pie at our recent Chili & Pie cook-off!

Smile 😊 Not that you need another reason to smile as you walk the church grounds, but now you may be on camera. For enhanced safety and security, Ring video cameras are being installed at strategic locations around the property.

Thanks for your continued support and involvement!

Jeff Thoelke, Board President
“For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will save it. For what does it profit a man if he gains the whole world and loses or forfeits himself?

Life in God is full of paradoxes. When we reflect on how God works and the life of faith we start seeing how different it can be. The gospel message is about God’s redeeming act. Here we learn that we must deny ourselves, take up our cross and follow Jesus. Here’s the thing: crosses are for dying. How can an instrument of death lead to life? Even more paradoxically, if I desire to save my life by losing my life in order that Jesus might save it. Wouldn’t that appear to be a contradiction? It seems like simply obeying this command will result in... not obeying it.

Along these lines, our hope is in the forgiveness of God. However, even here we start to see how much we need to be saved. As Paul puts it, “I know that nothing good lives in me, that is, in my flesh; for I have the desire to do what is good, but I cannot carry it out. For I do not do the good I want to do. Instead, I keep on doing the evil I do not want to do. And if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but it is sin living in me that does it.” (Romans 7:18–20)

One Christian writer, G. K. Chesterton, put it this way: the paradox of being human is that we’re both “chief of creatures” and “chief of sinners.” For as we strive forward in faith, we start to see how much we fail at our callings. We see how much we fall short and how much God’s grace surpasses it all.

Fall is a mark of changes in the church calendar. The long green season is nearing its end with festivals and celebrations starting with Advent/Christmas right around the corner. This month we celebrate Reformation Day, with its focus on the Grace of God and the power and importance of Scripture as it reveals God's will for us in Christ. The paradox of this day filled with life is seen when we see its counterpoint, All Saints Day. For All Saints Day is a day both of sadness and grief, but its centers on remembering and celebrating the lives of those saints in Christ who have gone on before us. Focusing on those who serve as inspirational examples for Christian life and most importantly the life that was given to those who are departed. Truly a paradox, when we celebrate the life given in Jesus when one loses their life.

Paradoxes might be fun – but there is more to this than mental exercises. Often, we look at days like Reformation and it becomes ‘theoretical day.’ However, the message of the Reformation is the call to the Gospel. A message of the complete forgiveness won in Jesus and the perfect life he lived for you. Not just something we give lip service to but actual new life given. New forgiven life, that calls us to change how we live, not out of threat but because it changed who we are. That's where Reformation and All Saints meet: in the lives of people we care for who brought us inspiration and joy and challenged us to live lives of faith, that is, in the Saints that God sent into our lives to show us his presence.

With the struggle of living the reformation-faith till we gain the life given to us in Jesus, we see a glimpse of life in Jesus’ words. One of the readings for All Saints Sunday is the Sermon on the Mount from Luke's Gospel (Luke 6:20-31).

Here we read Jesus' simple, basic, impossible guide to saintly living. As a reflection exercise, read the life that Jesus calls you to in Luke 6:20-31. Reflect on who Jesus says is blessed. Who does He speak “woe” to and how you are to treat your enemy? Jesus' outline of the simple, love- and faith-based life is such a worthy challenge. Don’t allow this to become something merely theoretical but hear the call to live in the challenging paradox/reality of Life in Christ.
God’s Peace

We all greet each other with these words on Sunday morning. But what is peace. When I think of peace, I think of things like a sleeping child or a rainbow after a storm. I think St. Paul put it well when he said, “the peace that passes all understanding.” You only have to watch the five o’clock news to see that this world is in great need of God’s Peace. My prayer for us all is that God’s enduring peace should be the force in our lives that keeps us going in the right direction along with enduring love.

Thank you for giving me this little opportunity to express my thoughts. Have a great October friends.

God’s Peace,
Paul Muhle

The six elders are; Paul Muhle, Phil Zafft, Don Ronfeldt, William Kittler, Bill Lair and Marvin Pascual. If anyone has any suggestion how we can better serve this church please feel free to contact anyone of us.

Sunday School Helpers

With 4 Youth Sunday School classes and 2 Adult Classes there is a lot being offered during our education hour. We cannot do this all alone. The teachers for our youth Sunday school classes are looking for people that would be willing to aid or sub for them when needs arise. Please consider helping this ministry.
Men’s Group Update
As we continue to work on building lifelong disciples, we are changing our men’s group to meet the needs around us. The plan at this time is to meet the first week of the month in the evening and the third Saturday of the month at 9:30 am. We will keep you informed when we know when and where the men’s group is going to meet for the first of the month.

Caring Community
There are so many ways that we can help around the church. One of the ways we can come together, helping the church and its missions, is in some of the prep work. Caring Communities is a group looking to help the needs of the church and school with some projects.

Everyone is always invited to come and join us at our Thursday’s school chapels. This is another way to come see the school, show support to the teachers and make connections with the parents and teachers.

Beautiful Savior Lutheran School is a great place for children! It is a school where there are classes for children from birth through Pre-K age. Everyone is welcome at BSLS, and it reflects the community. There are eight different nationalities represented with seven different languages plus English being spoken in the homes of the students.

Children have been adjusting quickly to a new school routine and class expectations. Already children have been able to play rhythm instruments, participate in group dances, work on letters and letter sounds, count, sort, create patterns, put puzzles together, paint, manipulate clay, build with blocks, play in the home center and hear many stories. On dry days the children also enjoy the playground where they love to climb on the equipment, play Shadow Tag, Freeze Tag, Duck Duck Goose, London Bridge and more. Teachers have been busy doing assessments of each child. Every Thursday, Pastor Chris comes for Chapel. The children enjoy singing praise songs, hearing the Bible Stories, praying and collecting offering. During the month of September our offering basket was overflowing with bars of soap and deodorant. All the collected mission items will go to Refugees Northwest. Thank you for your continued prayers, suggestions, donations and support. May God continue to bless us as we work together to make BSLS a great place for children and families.

Blessings, Mrs. Kittler (Mrs. K.)

Joyfully Walking With God

During Chapel each child received a zipper pull in the shape of two little blue shoes with the words, Walk With Jesus – I Am Always With You. Matthew 28:20. The zipper pulls were attached to each child’s backpack.

During the month of October, Pastor Chris will focus his Chapel messages on:
Jesus, God the Son, Is Walking With Us. Come join us, Chapel is a joyful and uplifting way to spend a Thursday morning. 9:30-10:00. Everyone is welcome!

October Mission Collection – New or used Shoes – Any size, any kind.

Please look through your closets, talk with friends from work, neighbors, family and collect as many pairs of shoes as you can. Can you imagine not having shoes? Please bring shoes in by Thursday, October 31st. Thank you for helping others.

During the first week of October, every preschool and pre-kindergarten family will receive a child’s Bible. The children in the Early Years Class will receive a Bible perfect for their age. Weekly, as we learn new stories in the Bible, teachers will encourage parents to read the story at home to their child. Bible story names and page numbers will be shared so that all the families might be successful. During Thursday Chapels, Pastor Chris also uses the video series that accompanies this Bible.

It is our prayer that families will grow in their walk with Jesus as we all learn together throughout the year.
